Since its establishment 20 years ago, ZhongDing has taken "Innovation classic value, service exquisite life" as its core mission, and constantly devoted to innovation. The spinning mill started from semi-worsted spinning in 2001, to gradually becoming a leading enterprise in the semi-worsted industry.

ZhongDing built the first workshop for woollen spinning in 2006 and through continuous development, achieves today an annual spinning capacity of 3550 tons.

The dyeing program started in 2009, with an annual dyeing capacity of 2100 tons in fiber/top dye. After years of technical transformation and innovation, ZhongDing reached an annual dyeing capacity of 7000 tons, and 25000 tons of knitting fabric dyeing. It continues integrating production conditions to expand the scale of production.

At the same time, ZhongDing pays more and more attention to the sustainable development through collaborating with the industrial chains. It has cooperated with several key enterprises from the source of the industry chain, and has established a cashmere research institute and technology research and development center in Qinghai, Alxa area. Under strict control of industrial chain, from pastoral area, raw materials, carding, yarn development, dyeing, spinning, to providing stock service of finished products, ZhongDing creates its industrial ecology for offering top quality dyed yarn and fashion services.

For this coming season, ZhongDing will launch a main catalogue for cashmere series, including LULLABY 26NM/2; ELEGANCE 26NM/2; SERENITY 26NM/2 and DIVINE 46NM/2. All in stock services to cater for the quick response requested by the customers.

ZhongDing's AW22-23 collection was inspired by the passage of time. The latest Autumn Winter collection analyzes people's daily life to redefine the concept of "Time", presented in three stages of transformation: the beginning of time, the process of material being eroded by time, and the achievement of time. The products mainly use natural fiber, and all have been vigorously tested to meet the highest quality standards. As an environmentally conscious company, ZhongDing strives to achieve eco-friendly results, not just only from the whole process of dyeing, water quality and spinning production, but also in the promotional materials.

Zhongding color cards are made with recycles paper that are tea dyed to minimize the carbon footprint left behind.
