THE WARMS

Make a statement for bold or oversized new silhouettes that can easily transition from day to night.

Restorative shows a desire for slow fashion, stability, grounded luxury, comfort, and reconnecting to essentials in rich natural fibers suited for cozy outerwear and structured knitwear. It shows an oscillation between what is familiar and what is forward-thinking, silhouettes that balance fluidity with structure. A study of contrasts.

Inclusivity speaks of empowerment, creative freedom, and subtle and unexpected associations of colors and materials but with opulence and sophistication, a feeling of dolce vita, bringing pop codes and sophistication together.

Versatility mixes retro charming memories with contemporary constructions, blending lingerie formalwear, outerwear and sport-inspired elements. An optimistic direction experimenting with unexpected yet simple silhouettes, comforting pieces with a twist, and a balance between retro charm and modern technological advancements.

THE COLDS

This part speaks of Urban Endurance and offers a more rational and pragmatic approach to fashion and home textiles. Functionality meets designs to fit today's needs for new essentials.

Purity

Seasonless, genderless, but feminine in its mood, a trend that gives priority to a minimalist elegance favoring investment pieces. The focus is on textures, matte finishes, and refined fibers, highlighting quiet sophistication.

Escapism

This trend is ideal for experimenting with tech fibers, and includes accessories and functional items that fit the needs of today's working generation. This eclectic fashion movement allows one to reinvent oneself, mixing tech and sport, elegance and comfort.

Connectivity shows how the rising popularity of high-tech athleisure is overtaking resale-driven sneaker culture focused on sporting and wellness communities. This is the newest and most avant-garde direction with a focus on telescoping and retractable structures, developing adaptive, protective and flexible fabrics that respond to dynamic environments.

This last part will be presented independently
