INSPIRATIONS

The directions and trends of the coming season are taking us into a world of turbulence, in a moment of transition between what we were accustomed to and what is coming, with all its instability.

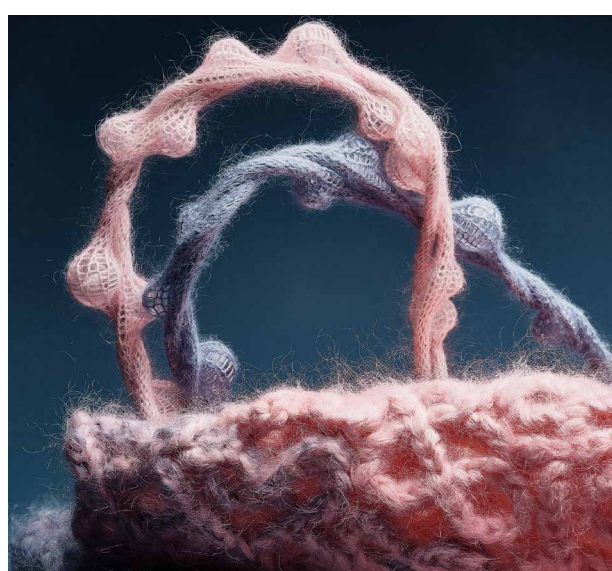

In this context, we need to distance ourselves, rise above the obstacles, adapt.

We explore how to "fly higher", to rise in order to apprehend situations. Exploring space, its potential but also the cosmic turbulence that occurs within it; exploring our emotions, the fluctuations of our hopes, our frustrations; becoming aware of the planet's revolt, the oscillation between extremes, heat waves and polar cold, drought and floods.

Each section brings with it its own range of colours, its own inspirations, and this is what SPINEXPO™ will be presenting in an expanded space, in an attempt to inspire exhibitors and visitors.

Another area will feature 'Osmos', a cross-seasonal collection for a new contemporary brand created by Steven Oo, the show's lead designer.

SPINEXPO™ has not escaped « turbulences » : after having to give up organising this session in Shanghai, we had to face a last-minute cancellation in Hangzhou. After this drawback, we managed to find other dates, radically changing our choice for the selection of days of the week. So, we took our cue from our own trends and decided to fly over the turbulence and get to the point, no matter what.

In this context, we are eager to welcome you to visit, exchange, dialogue and bring dynamism to business.
